Dear Room 105 Families,

We are well past the midpoint of most of our units in the core academic areas. Soon we will be publishing our personal narratives and beginning our unit on character. Math is going well. Check the website for support videos to help your students with homework. Students should be taking the problem sets home (with some model problems). In addition, our first classroom celebration is rapidly approaching. Please send in your students $3 so that we can plan the festivities. Checkout my website www.mrprovost.info or find us on twitter @misterprovost.
